

Breast Cancer Support Group

Bringing the best to you

Cancer Support Specialist

In addition to facilitating the Breast Cancer Support Group, our cancer support specialist is available for individual consultation, information and practical help, and emotional support for women in any stage of the recovery process. With your permission, your healthcare provider can provide our cancer support specialist with your name and phone number, and you will be contacted right away. The cancer support specialist can give you a confidential visit as you face the psychological and emotional implications of your diagnosis. These services are offered free of charge. For more information, please call (651) 430-4549.

Lakeview Hospital provides the Breast Cancer Support Group as a free service to the community.

The Club I Never Wanted to Join

It's a club you never thought you would join. While we are not glad for the reason you are joining us, we are glad that you are taking positive steps toward your healing and wholeness. By seeking support from other women who have taken the same journey you are on, you can enhance your own recovery.

Studies show that women with breast cancer who have the understanding support of others are able to help themselves recover faster and stay healthier.

Designed as a way to help learn about how to take care of ourselves after experiencing the physical and emotional affects of treatment, the support group meetings focus on learning about healthy lifestyle choices, ways of taking good care of our bodies, how to and where to exercise, what to eat and not eat, how to deal with physical changes that have happened to our bodies, where to find the best help, and more.

Bring your questions, bring your grief, your fears and your hopes. We are all in this club together - and together we can heal.

Monthly Meetings

To accommodate your busy schedule, we offer two meeting opportunities each month. The Breast Cancer Support Group meets on the second Wednesday of each month beginning at 7:00 p.m., and on the fourth Wednesday of each month at 3:30 pm.

Meeting Location

Both meetings are held at the Stillwater Medical Group Women's Center, located on the Lakeview Hospital campus (927 Churchill Street West, Stillwater, MN). Please visit www.lakeview.org/directions for driving directions and maps. Meeting rooms are at the bottom of the stairs at the end of the entrance hallway.
